HEADTEACHER'S THOUGHTS THIS WEEK

Dear Parents,

Happy New Year/ Blwyddyn Newydd Dda ! On behalf of all staff, I would like to thank you for your generosity; we are very grateful for the many Christmas cards and presents that we received at the end of last term.

Well it has certainly not been the start we all wanted or expected, however I am so proud of both the staff and the children and the way they have successfully transferred to remote learning.

Today, we have received the announcement that primary schools in Wales will continue to remain closed for the next three weeks. Unless there is a significant reduction in cases of coronavirus before 29 January, schools and colleges will continue to learn online until February half term.

Please ensure that your child makes every effort to attend the daily check ins so that they receive the very important contact with their classmates and teachers. The lessons are pre-recorded so that, if you are unable to log in at the set time, your child will still be able to access the learning. This is particularly important if you have more than one child sharing a device.

If you are experiencing any difficulties at all, please get in touch and we will do our very best to support you.

We look forward to working with you again in ensuring that your children have another happy and successful term., regardless of the circumstances.

Have a lovely weekend,

Mrs Daniels

Provision for critical workers

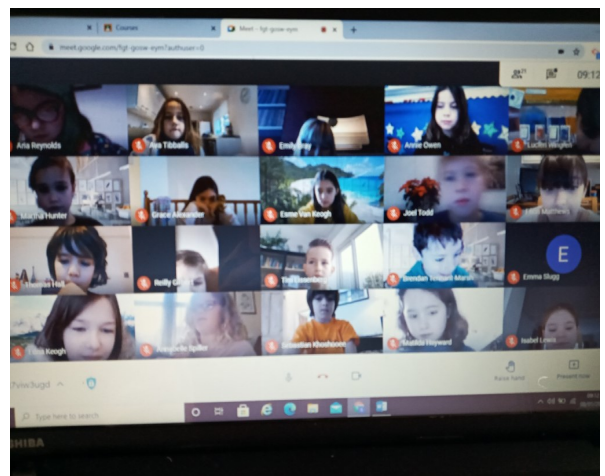

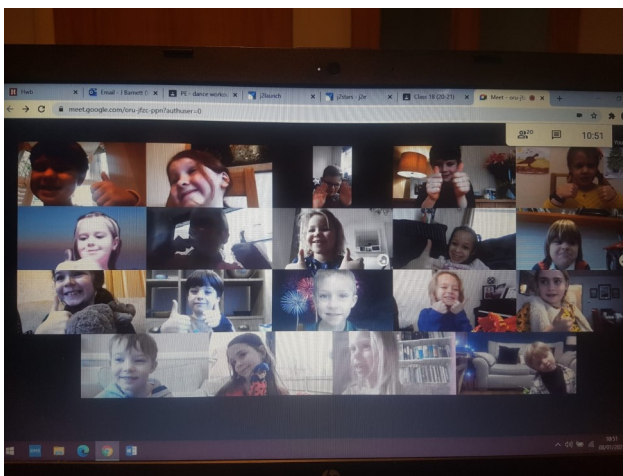

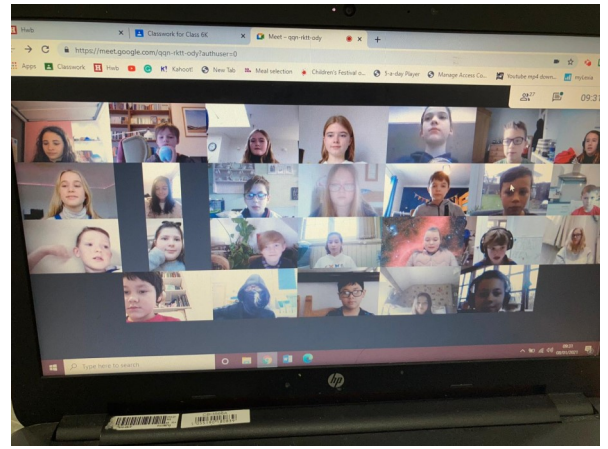

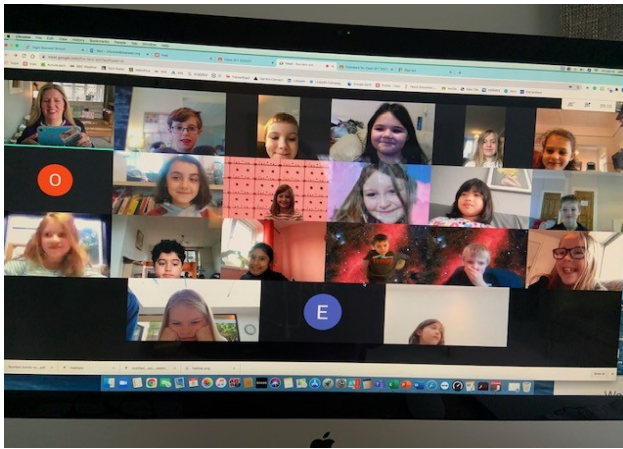

For parents who are critical workers in the fight against covid, and have exhausted every other child care option, we are able to offer limited provision in school.

Obviously, spaces are extremely limited, so priority will be given to:

- Blue light workers
- Health and social care workers
- Education and childcare workers.

An online form for eligible parents to pre book places for the week beginning 18th January will be emailed to all parents on Monday.
